Optimized Patient Care and Surgical Support

Only Mizuho OSI® can deliver a comprehensive system of care to simplify your pressure management initiatives. From the surgical table to pressure redistributing surfaces and soft patient care kits, we deliver seamless solutions for optimal surgical positioning and patient support.

Mizuho OSI Pressure Equalization Pads provide support, positioning and pressure redistribution during a surgical procedure. They are seamlessly integrated as a system of care with surgical tables and devices. We understand that quality materials, superior design and intimate knowledge of the surgical table translate into better patient outcomes.

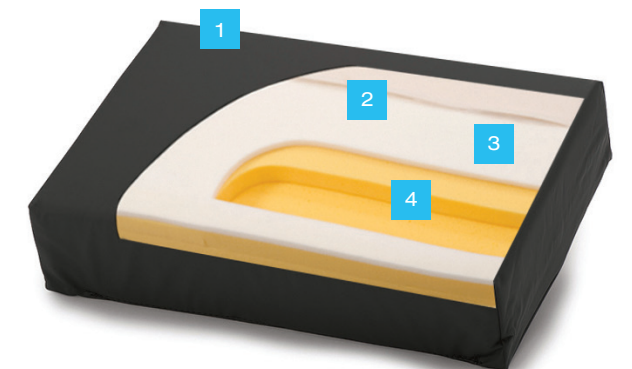

Pressure Equalization Pad Features

- Equalizes pressure load against the body
- Reduces incidence of hospital acquired pressure injuries (HAPI)¹
- Enhances patient comfort
- Adjusts firmness to body temperature
- Latex-free, anti-microbial materials
- Hypo-allergenic
- Material is radiolucent, MRI safe
- Waterfall edges
- Will not absorb or bleed energy
- Moisture resistant
- Non-skid bottom
- Easy cleaning with standard disinfectants

Tempur-Pedic vs. Conventional Foam

Studies show Tempur-Pedic material provides up to 4 times the pressure reduction of conventional polyurethane in controlled testing.²

1. Moisture impervious, vapor permeable membrane
2. Flame resistant barrier mattress assembly
3. Tempur 110kg/cubic meter density for peak loading force distribution
4. Tempur-HD soft, dense absorption reduces localized pressure concentration

Positioning Pads

Positioning Pads with Tempur-Pedic® are available in six diverse shapes to meet your challenging positioning needs. These positioning devices quickly envelop contact points with a fluid density that reduces peak pressures, yet holds the patient in the desired position. With closed seams and no zipper these devices can be utilized in any position. Available individually or as a complete set.
